INTRODUCTION

THE chief reason for printing this volume is the opportunity which it gives of preparing better and fuller genealogies of the families of Symonds and Reade than can be found in any book which I have ever seen. No good account has been printed of the descendants of Samuel Symonds, a gentleman of rank and prominence in this country, who held at the time of his death the second place in the colonial government of Massachusetts; and concerning the lineage of his second wife, Martha Reade, whose sister married John Winthrop, Jr., and whose mother married Hugh Peter, still less can be anywhere read. During three visits to England I have myself made long and careful researches into the ancestry of these persons, and extensive collections illustrating their descent, which have since been enlarged under my direction, till I believe that little is wanting to make the account of these families in England quite satisfactory. The very imperfect state of the early records of Ipswich, Massachusetts, renders it almost impossible to form a sure and true pedigree of any family residing there; and this record of the children of Samuel Symonds is far from being what I should like to have it. I trust, however, that it is as correct and complete as circumstances will allow. I have obtained many new facts concerning the relations of his third wife, Rebecca Swayne, from the "Hale family correspondence," in the library of the American Antiquarian Society at Worcester, Massachusetts.

FAMILY OF BAKER.

IN one of the volumes, which contain the names of many early emigrants from England to America, and which are kept at the State Paper Office, London, we read thus: —

"Aprill 8th 1637. The examinacion of John Baker borne in Norwich in Norffolcke, Grocar aged 39 yeres, and Elizabeth his wife aged 31 yeares with 3 Children, Elizabeth, John and Thomas, and 4 Sarvants, Marcy Alxarson, aged 24 yeares, Anne Alxarson, aged 20 yeares, Bridgett Boulle aged 32 yeares and Samuell Arres aged 14 yeares ar all desiroues to goe for Charles Towne in New England ther to inhabitt and remaine."

The name of Baker is quite common in Norwich, and the aneestry of John has not been positively ascertained. I think it most likely that he was a grandson of Richard Baker, Alderman, who died in 1589, leaving four sons. He had a cousin Richard Baker living in Norwich in 1676. John Baker apprenticed himself in 1613 in terms enrolled as follows: —

April 9, 1616. "M<sup>d</sup> that the day & yere abovesayd the sayd Isaacke Grandidge Inrolleth an Indenture dated the xvijth of January in the Tenth yere of his Ma<sup>ties</sup> Reigne of England etc Sealed by John Baker whereby the said John putteth himself Apprentice unto the said Isaack Grandidge unto the art and trade of a grocer & wth him to dwell tarry serve & abyde from the feast of the byrth of o<sup>r</sup> Lord God last before the date of the said Indenture unto the full end & terme of Twelve yeres Duringe all w<sup>ch</sup> said terme the said Isaack Grandidge covenānteth to teach or cause to be taught the said John Baker in the said art & occupa<sup>c</sup>ōn of a grocer & such other things as he useth fyndynge unto him sufficient meate drinke & other necessaryes duringe all the said terme & in the end thereof to give him doble Apparrell."

John Baker was afterwards made a citizen of Norwich in these terms: —

It is not known whom he married; but the christenings of the children, whom he brought with him, are all recorded in the register of the parish of St. Peter Maneroft, Norwich.

"1633. Chr. August 18. Elizabeth, the da. of John Baker.

"1636. ,, Sept. 18. Thomas sonn of John Baker & Eliz: his wife."

John Baker did not settle at Charlestown, but in 1638 is found at Ipswich, Massachusetts. I presume it was he who became Freeman of the Colony 2 June, 1641. His name is occasionally found in the Colonial Records.

26 May, 1647, "John Baker is licensed to draw wine at Ipswich, accord<sup>g</sup> to ord<sup>r</sup>."

16 October, 1650, "In answer to the petiçôn of John Baker, of Ipswich, craving that the severall sômes due to him from the country be paid him by the Tresurer out of this levy, and satisfaction for two disappointments by the Cou<sup>r</sup>s adjournment, itt is ordered, that the Treasurer pay him the severall somes due to him, wth forty shillings for his disapointments."

He was from year to year licensed by the County Court for Essex to brew and sell beer, and the following entry is found on the records of that Court for 28 September, 1652: —

"John Baker is discharged fr his p<sup>r</sup>sentment for suspition of not puting in six bushells malt in a hoggshead."

In 1662-63 he had some trouble on account of the misbehavior of his sons, who seem to have been rather wild young men. The particulars will be mentioned in a notice of the younger son Thomas. To this son John Baker had on 20 February, 1662, deeded all his lands, housing, &c., in Topsfield, 150 acres more or less, with the condition that Thomas should pay to his father and mother 10£ every year. The date of death is not known of John Baker, or of his wife Elizabeth. He was living at Topsfield in 1680, as appears from the following documents on record at Salem: —

"Norwich the 2 of march 1676.

"Mr John Baker these lines are to desire you to pay the twenty pound you have in your hand of myne w<sup>h</sup> I did order you formerly to pay to your Brother Benjamin into the hands of mr Nathaniell Greenwood of Boston and his receipt shall be your discharge your cossen Richard Baker & my selfe have writ to you more fully to that purpose.

RICHARD BAKER."

On 28 June, 1680, Nathaniel Greenwood discharged John Baker, Sen., late of Ipswich and now of Topsfield, in consideration of bills from his sons John and Thomas to the amount of £18.

- I. Elizabeth,<sup>2</sup> born at Norwich in 1633, of whom nothing is known.
- II. John,<sup>2</sup> born at Norwich in 1634.
- III. Thomas,<sup>2</sup> born at Norwich, 13 September, 1636.
- IV. Martha,<sup>2</sup> born at Ipswich, married, first, Obadiah Antrim of Salem, who was lost at sea on a voyage to Nevis in 1665; secondly, at Topsfield, 22 June, 1670, Thomas Andrews.

John<sup>2</sup> Baker, elder son of the settler, born at Norwich in 1634, married, 13 May, 1667, Katharine, daughter of Rev. William Perkins of Topsfield; he lived in Ipswich, and died in 1718, leaving children. His son John<sup>3</sup> married, in 1703, Hannah, daughter of John Dutch of Ipswich, and also died in 1718. Letters of administration on estates of father and son were granted 14 April of that year. His daughter Elizabeth<sup>3</sup> married, first, 30 June, 1690, Benjamin Dutch of Ipswich, who died in 1695, and, secondly, 3 August, 1700, John Appleton of Ipswich, who died 17 May, 1724: she died 24 March, 1750.

Thomas<sup>2</sup> Baker, younger son of the settler, born at Norwich 13 September, 1636, received from his father in 1662 an estate in Topsfield, as stated before, and lived in that town. He had previously led rather a wild life at Ipswich. On the records of the County Court for 26 March, 1661, we read, —

"Thomas Baker upon his p<sup>r</sup>sentment for smoking tobacco in the street on the Saboth daye was fined 10<sup>s</sup> & costs & fees of court."

The next year he and his brother were concerned in a very serious matter, which came before the General Court at Boston, from the records of which I quote at full length: —

7 May, 1662. The Court having considered the case of John Baker & Thomas Baker, represented to this Court by the records of the County Court at Ipswich, together wth what the parties could say for themselves, in helping John Perly out of the prison there, who was sentenced to be whipt severely for his stealing of a mare, the Court senteneeth them to be severely whipt wth tenn stripes apeece forthuith, & be bound to their good behaviour wth sureties of twenty pounds apeece till the next County Court at Ipsuich.

In ans<sup>r</sup> to the petition of John & Thomas Baker, the Court, considering the humble acknowledgement of the petitioners, & their ample justification of the authority of the country, doe order the execution of the sentence of this Court against them be suspended till the next session of this Court, the prisoners giving bond wth security to the value of fifty pounds a peece for their personall appearance at this Court, & in the meane time to be of good behaviour. Security was given accordingly by y<sup>e</sup> parties, Jn<sup>o</sup> Baker, y<sup>e</sup> father, & Th<sup>o</sup> Deane.

8 October, 1662. John & Thomas Baeker appearing in Court, the Court ordered that the sentence of the last Court ag<sup>t</sup> said Bakers be respitted till the next Court of Election, on condiçõn that they bring in the person of John Perly to some of the Magis<sup>ts</sup> at or before s<sup>d</sup> Court, or otherwise to pay five pounds a peece to the com<sup>on</sup> treasury, or in defect thereof to be punished according to former sentence; & all on condiçõn y<sup>e</sup> give fifty pounds bonds for their appearanc at y<sup>e</sup> next Gen<sup>l</sup> Court.

6 June, 1663. In ans<sup>r</sup> to the petition of John Baker, Señ, relating to his sonnes, John & Thomas Baker, the Court judgeth it meete to abate the petiçoners sonnes fines to five pounds, payable to the Tresurer of that county, the petitioner paying tenn shillings for this petition, & then they are discharged.

It may be doubted whether gentlemen would now escape so easily the results of such an offence as helping a prisoner to break jail. These youthful indiscretions, however, seem to have been forgotten, for Thomas Baker married at Topsfield, 26 March, 1672, Mrs. Priscilla, daughter of the Hon. Samuel Symonds of Ipswich, then an Assistant, and, the year following, Deputy Governor of the Colony of Massachusetts. He lived at Topsfield, and was for many years one of its most trusted and useful inhabitants. He was a selectman several times between 1675 and 1700, and his name occurs very often on the records of the town, particularly on committees to defend the boundaries of Topsfield, which were constantly in dispute with its neighbors. On 16 May, 1683, the General Court authorized the inhabitants of Andover, Topsfield, &c., to raise a troop of horse of forty-eight men; and Thomas Baker was appointed lieutenant. In 1713 he had the title of captain. His name is on the list of church-members of Topsfield in 1684.

As Leift Thō Baker, he was first sent Deputy from Topsfield to the General Court of 7 November, 1683, and again in 1684 and 1686. His pay as Deputy was £2; and the value of his services and time at this period is seen in the following extract from the town-records of Topsfield, 25 January, 1687: —

"Alowed Lieut Thomas Baker five shilings in silver three for the Justises conformation of our Rates to our menister and granting a warrent to our Constable to gather them and two shilings for three days one for goeing Commisiener to Salem & two days to the Justises above said."

In 1688 he was chosen Town-Constable. On 7 May, 1689, he was sent Deputy to consult with the Council of Safety, and,

"At a lawfull Towne metting the 3 of June 1689, — Leuit Thomas Baker was chosen the Townes representative to goe to the preasent Counsell for safty of the people and Conservation of the peace To act for the publick good and welfare and safty of This Collony prohibiting any act or thing that may have any tendencey to the infringment of any of our Charter priviledges whatsoever."

He was also a Deputy in 1690, 1692, 1693, 1694, 1698, and 1708. In September, 1693, the town voted to pay him 12 shillings per week; but, in October, changed it to 2 shillings per day.

Thomas<sup>2</sup> and Priscilla Baker had six children: —

- I. Priscilla,<sup>3</sup> born at Topsfield 8 December, 1674; married, about 1695, Isaac Appleton of Ipswich.
- II. Martha,<sup>3</sup> born at Topsfield 14 October, 1682; married, 17 April, 1712, Joseph Sargent of Gloucester; and died 27 May, 1713, leaving one son; her husband died about 1750.
- III. Rebecca,<sup>3</sup> born at Topsfield 16 November, 1685; married 30 April, 1712, Jacob Peabody of Topsfield, who died 24 July, 1749; she lived till 12 March, 1780.
- IV. Thomas,<sup>3</sup> born at Topsfield 17 February, 1688; married, 5 January, 1710, Mary, daughter of Rev. Joseph Capen of Topsfield, whose wife was Priscilla Appleton, a cousin of Isaac, above mentioned; Thomas<sup>3</sup> Baker died in September, 1725, leaving several children, and Mary, his widow, married, 11 August, 1730, John Griffin of Bradford.
- V. John,<sup>3</sup> born at Topsfield 6 January, 1691, married Mary Perley, and died at Ipswich 1 August, 1734. The following notice appeared in the Boston "News-Letter" of 8 August: "IPSWICH, Aug. 1. This day died John Baker, Esq., in the 44th year of his age!

He was one of His Maj<sup>s</sup> Justices of the Peace for the County of Essex. His Descent was Honourable, son of Capt. Thomas Baker of Topsfield, by a dau. of the late hon. Samuel Symonds Esq., Dep. Gov. of Mass. He has left a widow with four small children, & a considerable Estate for their Support." His widow died 26 March, 1738, aged 40.

VI. Elizabeth,<sup>3</sup> born at Topsfield, baptized 17 September, 1693, of whom nothing is known.

Capt. Thomas Baker died 18 March, 1718, and was buried at Topsfield, with this inscription on his gravestone: —

"Here lyes buried ye body of Capt. Thomas
Baker who died
March ye 18th 1717-18
Aged 81 years &
6 months
& 5 days."

His widow moved to Ipswich, and died there, 2 January, 1734, aged 85.

Priscilla,<sup>3</sup> eldest daughter of Capt. Thomas Baker, born 8 December, 1674, married, about 1695, Isaac Appleton of Ipswich. She died there, 26 May, 1731, leaving several children, among whom was an only son, Isaac, ancestor of many of the name of Appleton, including most of those who have been eminent in New England during the present century.

FAMILY OF SYMONDS.

I WILL begin the account of this family by quoting all that is printed in "THE HISTORY AND ANTIQUITIES of the COUNTY of ESSEX," by Rev. Philip Morant, M.A., 1768. It is found under "The Pool," an estate in the parish of Great Yeldham.

"The family is originally of Croft in Lancashire, where they continued in a direct line for about 20 generations, and at length terminated in females.—From Richard, in the third generation, sprung the Symonds's of Norfolk; and from John, in the eighth generation, sprung the Symonds's of Cambridge-shire.—Thomas Symonds, in the eleventh generation, married . . . daughter of Mr. Tolleshunt, of Tolleshunt Darcy.—Thomas, in the fourteenth descent, married . . . daughter of Robert Osbaldeston.—John, in the seventeenth descent, by . . . daughter of William Lerding, had two sons, William of Croft; and Robert who marrying . . . daughter and heir of

. . . Congreve of Stratton in Staffordshire, settled in that county; and from his descendents issued the Symonds's of Oxfordshire. . . . John, in the twentieth generation, was of Newport; and, by Margaret his wife, daughter of Thomas Maynard, was father of . . . , John: who, by Anne daughter of Thomas Bendbow of Shropshire, had his son and heir

RICHARD SYMONDS above-mentioned. He was a Cursitor in Chancery; and marrying, 9 Janu. 1580, Elizabeth daughter of Robert Plumb of Yeldham-Hall above-mentioned, had in frank marriage with her the Poole, where he settled. His wife was interred in this Church 24 Janu. 1611, and he himself dyed 8 July 1627, and was also buried here. — Richard, then aged 40 years, is set down in the Inquisition as his son and heir. But, according to the pedigree, he had also 4 other sons; viz. John; Thomas, who dyed without issue 5 June, 1625; Samuel; and Edmund; and Richard is set down as the fifth. Of John, who is placed as the eldest in the pedigree, we shall give a particular account, after taking proper notice of the others. 3. Samuel, the 3d son, married Dorothy daughter of Thomas Harlakenden of Earl's-Colne. He was a Cursitor in Chancery; and had Olivers in Toppesfield; but retired to New England with his family. . . . — 4. Edmund the 4th son, was also a Cursitor in Chancery. In right of his wife, Anne only daughter of Joshua Draper of Braintree, to whom he was married 2 February 1614, he had an estate at Black-Notley, where he dwelt, and dying 9 Decemb. 1627, was buried in that Church. He had 3 sons, and 1 daughter. Richard, the eldest son, was a Cursitor in Chancery, and Collector of the Three Volumes in folio, preserved in the Heralds Office, containing the Arms, Epitaphs, and other Antiquities in this county, to which we so often refer in the course of this work. On the 25th of March 1643, he was committed to prison by Miles Corbet for his loyalty to K. Charles I. but escaping, he went into the King's Army, and served in his troop, under the command of the Lord Bernard Steuart Earl of Litehfield, at the battles of Cropedy-bridge, Lestwithiel, Newbury second and third, Naseby, and relief of Chester, where that noble Lord was slain: After that, he was at Denbigh with Sir William Vaughan, and at other places. — Edward, the second son, baptized 20 Decemb. 1621, dyed at Oxford in 1645, being in arms for the King. . . . John, the third son was baptized 10 April 1627. And Anne 31 March 1631. 5 Richard, the fifth son of the first Richard Symonds settled here, was of Magdalen College, Cambridge, and of Lincoln's-Inn. He purchased the manor of Panfield, where he sometimes resided, and dying 26 Sept. 1680, aged 83, was buried in this Church, with a monument.

JOHN, the eldest son abovementioned, of Richard Symonds, who first settled at the Pool, and Elizabeth Plumb, married Anne daughter of Tho. Elyott of Godalming in Surrey, Esq.; by whom he had 4 sons, Richard, John, Samuel, and Fitz-Symonds: and 4 daughters, Agnes wife of Tho. Bacon of London, merchant; Elizabeth, of Antony Wolmer of Lincoln's-Inn Esq.; Thomasine and Dorothy, twins, born 16 August 1627. Thomasine was married to . . . Pepys Esq.; . . . Richard, the eldest son, born 13 Octob. 1616, being of Lincoln's-Inn, was in several battles with the Earl of Essex against the King; and slain at Naseby 1645, fighting under the command of Sir Thomas Fairfax. . . . John, the second son, born at Yeldham, 4 Sept. 1618, became one of the Cursitors in Chancery upon his father's resignation in 1641. He was of Lincoln's-Inn, and near 40 years a Justice of Peace for this county. He had two wives, but issue by neither. The first was Elizabeth daughter of Sir Robert Quarles of Rumford Knt. She was buried in this Church 18 Decemb. 1666. His second wife was Jane daughter of Sir Robert Burgoyne, of Sutton in Bedfordshire, Knt. This worthy person dyed 19 Febr. 1692-3, in the 74th year of his age, and was buried in the South Chapel of this Church. By will he left this and other his estates to his nephew,

John Pepys Esq."

This account is copied almost exactly in "THE HISTORY AND TOPOGRAPHY OF THE COUNTY OF ESSEX," by Thomas Wright, 1836.

Our more positive information is derived from the Heraldic Visitation of Essex in 1634, (British Museum, MS. Harleian, 1542), and from the researches of Richard Symonds, a nephew of the settler in New England and a devoted antiquary, whose MS. Collections for the County of Essex, made about 1638-40, in three folio volumes, are now in the library of the College of Arms, London. He gives six generations of ancestors before Richard, who married Elizabeth Plume of Great Yeldham; and this is probably as far as he could trace his lineage with any certainty: Morant's twenty generations would carry the family back beyond the Norman Conquest. The following pedigree is from the second volume of Symonds' Collections: it has been already printed by the Camden Society, together with the contents of four small MS. volumes by Symonds in the British Museum, in which he recorded the armory of such churches as he visited while serving in the Royal army in 1644-5, as well as much military and other matter. The same library contains ten more MS. volumes by Symonds, some of which I have examined. The compiler made a strange mistake in giving the date of death of his father, Edward Symonds of Black Notley, as 1627, whereas it should be 1636. The pedigree in the Visitation differs slightly from this, but is much shorter, and adds little information. It tells the baptismal name, "Dorathey," of the wife of Samuëll of Topesfeld, and gives him nine children, — Richard, Samuëll, Harlakenden, John, William, Dorathey, Jane, Anne, Elizabeth. It has the coat of arms, and attestation, as printed below the wood-cut opposite.

There is little to be added to the pedigree, except the few facts obtained from the wills here printed. John<sup>6</sup> Symons of Newport, Shropshire, who married Ann, daughter of Thomas Benbow, died in 1574, and left a nuncupative will, in which he mentioned his wife Ann, his sons Richard,<sup>7</sup> John,<sup>7</sup> Thomas,<sup>7</sup> Thurston,<sup>7</sup> Francis,<sup>7</sup> and Roger,<sup>7</sup> and his daughters Elizabeth,<sup>7</sup> Margaret,<sup>7</sup> and Isabel.<sup>7</sup> Of these sons, Richard<sup>7</sup> moved to Great Yeldham, Essex, and died there in 1627; John<sup>7</sup> and Roger<sup>7</sup> lived at Newport, and died in 1597 and 1604; Thomas<sup>7</sup> was presented by his brother Richard to the rectory of Farnham in Essex, which he held till 1634; Thurston<sup>7</sup> was of London, and died in 1628, leaving an only son, Thomas<sup>8</sup>; by his will he appointed as his executors, his "well-beloved kinsmen and nephewes" Edward Symons of Black Notley and Thomas Symons, son of his brother Thomas Symons of Farnham, Clark, Parson of Farnham. Ann, widow of John<sup>6</sup> Symons, died in 1597.

Richard<sup>7</sup> Symonds, eldest son of John, moved to Great Yeldham in Essex, where he married, 9 January, 1581, Elizabeth, daughter of Robert Plume* of that parish, and received with her the estate known as The Pool. They had five sons, — John,<sup>8</sup> Thomas,<sup>8</sup> Edward,<sup>8</sup> Samuel,<sup>8</sup> and Richard-Fitz;<sup>8</sup> and one daughter, Margaret,<sup>8</sup> who married Edmund Eyre of Windsor, and of Burnham, Buckinghamshire. He was a Cursitor† in Chancery, and died in 1627; his wife had died in 1611. His will has not been found. In the church of Great Yeldham is a mural brass tablet to his memory, with figures of himself and wife, five sons, and one daughter, in prayer, and, below, a shield with these arms: SYMONDS, of four quarterings: 1 and 4, Azure, a chevron engrailed between three trefoils slipped Or; 2, Or, three eagles displayed —; 3, — on a bend — three eagles displayed —; empaling PLUME, Argent, a bend Vairy Or and Gules, cotised Vert.

* Robert Plume was son of John Plume of Great Yeldham, and married Elizabeth Purchas: she died in 1596, and he in 1613.

† A cursitor is an officer in the Court of Chancery, whose duty it is to make out original writs.

John<sup>s</sup> Symonds, eldest son of Richard, inherited The Pool, where he lived. He was a Cursitor in Chancery, and married Ann, daughter of Thomas Elyott of Godalming in Surrey. They had four sons, — Richard,<sup>9</sup> John,<sup>9</sup> Samnel,<sup>9</sup> and Fitz;<sup>9</sup> and seven daughters, of whom three died in infancy. Ann,<sup>9</sup> born in 1612, married, 1 November, 1627, Thomas Bacon; Elizabeth,<sup>9</sup> born in 1614, married, 6 June, 1639, Anthony Wollmer, and had a daughter, Elizabeth, who married Martin Carter; Thomasine,<sup>9</sup> born in 1626, married John Pepys, and had, with other children, a son, John Pepys, who inherited part of the estates of the family in Great Yeldham. John<sup>s</sup> Symonds died in 1657.

Thomas<sup>s</sup> Symonds, second son of Richard, died childless at Great Yeldham, 5 June, 1625. He may have been the same Thomas Symons, from Essex, who was admitted fellow-commoner of Jesus College, Cambridge, 8 July, 1615.

Edward<sup>s</sup> Symonds, third son of Richard, was a Cursitor in Chancery, and married Ann, only daughter of Joshua Draper of Braintree in Essex, with whom he had an estate at Black Notley, in the same county, where he lived, and died in 1636. They had

Samuel<sup>8</sup> Symonds, fourth son of Richard, moved to New England, and founded the family in America. He will be fully noticed farther on.

Richard-Fitz<sup>8</sup> Symonds, fifth son of Richard, born in 1598, was a barrister of Lincoln's Inn. He bought the estate of Panfield in Essex, and died unmarried, 26 September, 1680, leaving his property to the sons of his brother John. In the church of Great Yeldham is a mural marble monument to his memory, with the family arms, and the following inscription: —

Richard<sup>9</sup> Symonds, eldest son of John, born in 1616, was killed at Naseby, in 1645, in the Parliamentary army under Sir Thomas Fairfax.

John<sup>o</sup> Symonds, second son of John, born in 1618, was a Cursitor in Chancery, and succeeded his father in the estates at Great Yeldham. He married, first, Elizabeth, daughter of Sir Robert Quarles of Romford in Essex, Knight, who died 15 December, 1666, and was buried at Great Yeldham; and secondly, Jane, daughter of Sir Robert Burgoyne of Sutton, Bedfordshire, Knight. He had no children, and died 19 February, 1693, leaving his extensive estates in Great Yeldham, Castle Hedingham, Toppesfield, Panfield, Shalford, Stamborne, &c., to his nephew, John Pepys of Cambridge, and his grand-nephew, Martin Carter. In the church of Great Yeldham is a mural marble monument to his memory, with a shield of four quarterings, and the long inscription following. Arms, 1 and 4, Symonds, as before; 2, Azure, a talbot passant Argent, for Burgoyne; 3, Or, a fess dancettée Ermine between three sea-pewits Vert, for Quarles.

Samuel<sup>9</sup> Symonds, third son of John, born in 1623, was rector of Colne Engaine in Essex, from 1662 to 1667, in which year he died, and was buried at Great Yeldham. He left a wife, Hannah, but no children.

Fitz<sup>9</sup> Symonds, fourth son of John, born in 1629, was living in 1666. Probably he was the person called Orlando-Fitz Symonds, of Steeple Bumpstead in Essex, who died, unmarried, 20 February, 1692, and was buried at Great Yeldham. Letters of administration were granted to his brother John.

Richard<sup>9</sup> Symonds, eldest son of Edward, born in 1617, was a Cursitor in Chancery. He has given a biography of himself in the pedigree following page 24. He appears among the compounded royalists of the county of Essex, with an estate of £295. Mr. Charles E. Long, editor of his manuscript diary for the Camden Society, gives him this well-merited praise: "We are indebted to him, then a very young man, for many a family record which time, neglect, and Vandalism have since swept away; and, if his narrative is not always lively, and attractive to the general reader, it is valuable as affording corroborative testimony to the truth of other publications of that period." He was living in 1660, but the date of his death is not known.

Edward<sup>9</sup> Symonds, second son of Edward, born in 1621, died at Oxford in 1645, being then in the King's army.

John<sup>9</sup> Symonds, third son of Edward, born in 1627, was of Pater-Noster Row, London, and may have been the person mentioned thus in Richard Smyth's Obituary of persons he knew. (British Museum, MS. Sloane 886): "1654. May 19, Mr. Symonds, the printer, died."

Edward Symonds, rector of Rayne in Essex, was a member of the family, but his exact relationship is not known. He was son of Edward, is called "consin" by Richard, the antiquary, and is commemorated by Cotton Mather, in his "Magnalia Christi Americana," for the following words in a sermon preached in 1637: "Many now promise to themselves nothing but successive Happiness at New England; which for a time, thro' God's Mercy, they may enjoy; and I pray God, they may a long time, but in this World there is no Happiness perpetual."

EDWARD SYMONDS.

In the name of the blessed Trinitie God Almighty Amen the Twelfe daie of October in the yere of the Incarnation of my Lord Jesus Christ one thousand six hundred thirty sixe I

Edward Symonds of Black Notley in the County of Essex and Dioces of London gentleman beinge at this tyme sicke and weake in body but in good and perfect memorie (I praise the Almightye God therefore) considering this my uncertaine continuance in this my mortall life, doe for the better quiet of my own mind and peace and concord of those whome by the lawes of nature & grace I am bound to provide for, make and ordaine this my last will and Testament as followeth.

First and above all things I give myselfe wholly into the hands of God the Father for hee made me, Jesus Christ his onely sonne my onely Saviour for hee redeemed mee, and to the holy ghost my Comforter and Directer in all goodness for hee sanctifieth me. To which blessed Trinity in unity and unitie in Trinitie I humbly desire to be an instrument of glory both heere and in heaven for evermore.

The temporall goods which that great God hath bestowed upon mee I give and bequeath in such sort as hereafter is declared.

And first I give and bequeath unto Richard Symonds my sonne whome I doe ordayne and constitute the sole Executo<sup>r</sup> of this my last will and testament, All my houses lands tenements leases goods and Chattells execept such as are hereby otherwise disposed, to have and to hold to him and his heires for ever upon trust confidence and condiçion that hee will performe and fulfill the same accordinge to the true intent and meaninge thereof discharging my debts and paying such Legacyes as shall hereby bee given and bequeathed and under the Charges provisoes and Lymitacons hereafter expressed and declared.

And forasmuch as I hould myself obliged by the bonds of nature to expresse a tender respect and care for the future maintenance and support of my deare Companion and loving wife who albeit shee is interested or intituled unto parte of my lands by the order and course of the Comon lawes of this Realme, yet for her quiet and the more orderly and convenient disposing of my estate amongst my said wife and children and by her consent and app'bacon I doe hereby give and bequeath unto my said wife for terme of her life in leiwe and recompence of her dower and estate out of all my Lands and Tenements the yearely rent of Five and Fifty Pounds, to be paid by my said Executor att the fower usuall Feasts or tymes in the year (that is to say) at the Feast of St. Michaell Tharchangell, the Nativity of our Saviour Jesus Christ, the Annunciacon of the blessed Virgin Mary, and the Nativity of St. John the Baptist by equall porcons, The first payment thereof to commence at that Feast which shall first happen after my decease. And if it shall happen the same to bee behind and unpaid by the space of Fifteene dayes after anie of the dayes and tymes limited for the payment thereof, Then it shalbe lawfull for my said wife to enter into all my Lands and Houses whatsoev and wheresoever and there to distreyne untill the same be paid accordinge to the true intent and meaninge of this my last will and testament. Yet notwithstandinge my will and meaning is that my said wife shall have and occupye to her owne use and behoofe duringe her life two Chambers that is to say the Kitchine Chamber whercin my said sonne lyeth and the Chamber intended to be builded over part of the Brewhouse with free liberty att her pleasure to walk in and through all the houses yards gardens Orchards &c. alsoe a meete roome or part in the woodhouse for wood &c.

Item I give and bequeath unto her my said lovinge wife thirtie pounds in money and of goods, household stuffe plate or Jewells (after appraisement made) of whatsoever shee best liketh to the value of Thirtie Pounds more. Provided alwaies and upon condiçõn that if my said wife doe claime or demand any of my said Lands or Tenements by vertue or pretence of anie manner of right tittle or Interest or shall not within Three moneths after my death release convey and assure unto my said sonne Richard all her my said wifes right title or estate & interest into or out of all and singuler my said Lands and Tenements then shee is to loose the benefitt of all such Legacies goods and Comodities as are to her hereby appointed and gyven and everie Clause concerninge onely the same to bee voide and of none effect.

Item I give and bequeath to my two sonnes Edward and John Six hundred Pounds a peece to bee paid to them at their severall ages of three and twenty yeares, and to my daughter Ann Five hundreth Pounds to be paid att her age of twentie yeares or at the daie of her marriage which shall first happen, and in the meane tyme for and towards their educations sixteene

Pounds a peece yearly till they accomplish their severall ages of twenty yeares and then my will is that my said sonnes shall have fower and twenty Pounds a peece yearly untill they shall attaine to their said sefall ages of three & twenty yeares, the said Annuities or yearly somes to bee paid at the fower feasts and tymes in the yeare as is before appoynted to my Wife by equall porcions. And if it shall happen the same to be behind and unpaid by the space of twenty dayes after anie of the said tymes lymited then it shalbe lawfull for my said three Children Edward John and Ann, and everie of them respectively to enter into all my lands and Tenements in Bumpstead and to distreyne untill the same bee paid according to the true intent and meaning of this my last will and testament. And if the said principall some or Legacie of Six hundreth Pounds given to my said sonne Edward happen to be unpaid at the tyme before appoynted for the payment thereof then my will is that my said sonne Edward to have and to hould to him and to his heires forever the one moyety of my farme and Tenements in Bumpstead. Likewise if it happen the said principall some or Legacie of Six hundreth pounds given to my said sonne John to be unpaid at the tyme before appointed for the payment thereof, then my will is that my said sonne John to have to him and his heires forever the other moyetie of my said farme and Tenements in Bumpstead upon this Condiçon notwithstanding that my said two sonnes Edward and John soe entryng and enjoyng the sayd severall moyetyes pay out of the same one hundred and Fifty Pounds a peece to my said daughter Anne as parte of the Five hundreth Pounds before bequeathed her at such tymes as are assigned for the payment thereof, and if it further happen the other three hundred pounds residue of the said Legacie of Five hundred pounds to be unpaid unto my said daughter att her said age of twenty yeares or day of marriage then my will and meaninge is my said daughter Ann to have and to hould to her and her heires forever my Lands and Tenements in Black Notley called Overeds Grayes Wren Parke and Perry Crofts. Provided alwayes that if my said daughter Ann marry without the consent of my Loving bretheren John Symonds, Samuel Symonds, Richard-Fitz Symonds, and of Ann my beloved wife and Richard my sonne or two of them at the least, the same to be declared by wryting under three or two of their hands and seales, then my will and meaninge is that the said Five hundreth pounds shall be paid into the hands of my said bretheren to bee by them distributed amonge my Children according to their discretions.

Item I give and bequeath unto my said Bretheren and Margaret my Sister Five markes a peece in token of my love to them and my meaninge is that my said Executo<sup>r</sup> reward my Servants with some token for remembrance according to his discretion and their meritt.

And lastly (though not most forgotten) I will and require my said Executo<sup>r</sup> to contynue in my steede mindfull of the poore not for once and a done but from tyme to tyme as God shall enlarge him with abilitie thereunto.

FAMILY OF SYMONDS IN NEW ENGLAND.

SAMUEL<sup>s</sup> SYMONDS, founder of the family in America, fourth son of Richard of Great Yeldham, Essex, was born in that parish in 1595, and baptized 9 June of that year. He was a Cursitor in Chancery, and married at Great Yeldham, 2 April, 1617, Dorothy, eldest daughter of Thomas Harlakenden, of Earl's Colne, Essex, where she was baptized 12 December, 1596. He owned the estate of Olivers in Toppesfield, next parish to Great Yeldham, and lived there twenty years. They had twelve children born at Toppesfield, four of whom died there young. His wife was buried there 3 August, 1636.

In the next year he moved to New England, and settled at Ipswich, and was made Freeman of the Colony of Massachusetts in March, 1638, without the title of Mr., to which he certainly had good claim. Before this, he had married Martha, daughter of Edmund Read of Wickford in Essex, widow of Daniel Epes, step-daughter of Rev. Hugh Peter, and sister of the second wife of John Winthrop, Jr. Among the Winthrop Papers, printed by the Massachusetts Historical Society (Collections, Fourth Series, Vol. VII.), is a letter from Samuel Symonds, written probably from Boston to his brother-in-law Winthrop at Ipswich, containing most particular directions about a house, of which the latter was superintending the building. I shall not reprint the letter here, but it is interesting as giving perhaps the fullest contemporary description known of such a house as was at this early date built by one of the richer settlers in New England. The letter is unfortunately not dated. In it Symonds says, "my wife her tyme draweth very near," and mentions his daughter as at Ipswich, probably on a visit, unless he means his step-daughter Elizabeth Epes, who seems to have lived with John Winthrop, Jr. In another letter, apparently dated 14 December, 1637, Symonds says, "I resolved to take the opportunity of my father's barke, now at Boston, to send certaine necessarie things by it, as far as Salem, that soe by some meanes or other, they may be gotten to Argilla," his farm at Ipswich.

He was sent Deputy from Ipswich to the General Court of 2 May, 1638, and the same year was appointed, with Mr. Woodbridge and Mr. Hubbard, to join the Magistrates in keeping the County Court at Ipswich. The latter duty he also discharged the three following years, and in 1640 was chosen to record all mortgages, bargains, sales and grants of houses, lands, rents, and other hereditaments within the jurisdiction of Ipswich Court. The first volume of these records, now at Salem, is almost wholly written in his beautiful round hand, as are also the town records of Ipswich for a few years between 1639 and 1645. We shall find that he was constantly employed in this colony in duties, for which his professional education and experience in England particularly fitted him. He was one of six gentlemen, appointed 9 October, 1641, to keep Court at Pascataquack, then decided to be within the jurisdiction of Massachusetts. In 1642 he was one of a committee of the General Court "to consider whether in tryall of causes to retaine or dismise juries." He was a Deputy to most of the General Courts before 10 May, 1643, when he was "chosen an Assistant, & tooke his oathe." He was a Selectman of Ipswich in 1644 and a few other years, and was a member of the committee of the town "for makeinge of a Rule for settleinge of mens pprieties in respect of the variacon from the Grants." His duties as a Colonial Magistrate seem to have interfered to prevent him from holding offices of honor in the town, and his name is not often found on the records of the latter.

In 1644 he was on a committee with Bellingham and Saltonstall with "full power to heare & determine all businesses at Hampton, both about their differences, offence, & a new plantation," and the same year was again appointed to keep a Court at Pascataqua, as also in 1645, when it is called Dover. In this year he was put in Bellingham's place on the committee for Essex County to meet on 12 November, "to consult together, & to returne to this Co't a result of their thoughts, that this Co'te may pceede thereupon to satisfy y<sup>e</sup> expectation of the country in establishing a body of lawes." He also appears as one of seven gentlemen who petitioned the General Court to be established a free company of adventurers, with extensive privileges, which was granted.

In 1648 he was one of the committee "to puse the articles of o<sup>r</sup> confederation wth the United Colonies," with instructions as to its duty and powers. Next year he was appointed to keep Courts for Norfolk County at Salisbury and Hampton; and also in 1651, in which year he was chosen by the inhabitants of Ipswich as one of the Feoffees of the Grammar School of that town, founded by Robert Payne, and held the office till his death. 23 October, 1652, the General Court issued a commission to him as one of six gentlemen, "to settle the civil government amongst the inhabitants of Kittery, the Ile of Shoales, Accomenticus, and so to the most northerly extent of our patent," charging them with various duties to be performed, "as in your wisdomes and discretions yow shall judge most to conduce to the glory of God, the peace and welfare of the people there, and the maintenance of our oune just rights and interest." The return of the commissioners may be read at full length in the fourth volume of the Records of Massachusetts. In 1653 he was chairman of a committee "to joyne with such of the comissioners for the United Colonies as they shall please to nominate, to draw up the case respecting the Dutch and In-deans," and of another to consider "whither the commissioners of the United Colonies have power, by the articles of agreement, to determine the justice of an offensive or vindictive warre, and to engage the colonies therein," which was decided in the negative.

In 1654 he was chairman of an important committee of three, "to examine, compare, reconcile, and place together, in good order, all former lawes, both printed and written, and make fitt titles and tables for ready recourse to any particular contained in them, and to present the same unto the next Court of Election, to be considered of, that so order may be taken for the printing of them together in one booke, whereby they be more usefull then now they are or can be." This year he was also on a committee "to drawe up severall letters, to his highnes the Lord Protectors letter, y<sup>e</sup> letter for y<sup>e</sup> gent<sup>m</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> corporation, & M<sup>r</sup> Winslows, as also to drawe up a narrative, in way of remonstrance, of all matters respecting that which is charged on this Court concerning the breach of the confœderacy, for the vindication of this Courts actiones in such respect." About the same time he appears as buying from George Dell, master of the ship Goodfellow, "two of the Irish youthes brought over by order of the State of England: the name of one of them is William Dalton the other Edward Welch—sum six & twenty pounds in corn merchantable or live cattell at or before the end of October next.” There seems to be some doubt about the names of these unfortunate men, as they are afterwards called William Downing and Philip Welch. Mr. Symonds was obliged to bring an action to enforce his authority and ownership, and his declaration in the case may be seen in the New-England Historical and Genealogical Register for 1865.

In 1655 he was appointed to keep Courts at Dover and York, and to take under the government of Massachusetts “all persons not yet subjected to this government that are inhabiting wthin the northerly line of our patent, so farr as it is extended,” and also to keep the Courts in Norfolk. In 1658, in consequence of disorders in the eastern parts, he was one of the commissioners appointed “to repaire to Black Point, Richmonds Island, & Casco, . . . to take in the inhabitants thereof into our jurisdiction.” The return of the commissioners is printed in the fourth volume of the Records of Massachusetts. In the previous year, 1657, as Justice of the County Court of Essex, he gave judgment in the case of George Giddings, plaintiff, against Edward Browne, defendant. The documents relating to this case occupy more than twenty pages in Hutchinson's Collection of Original Papers. The clergymen in New England being usually supported by voluntary contributions, the town of Ipswich, in 1656, voted to give £100 towards building or buying a house for Rev. Mr. Cobbet, and the question was whether this vote was binding on those who objected to it and refused to pay. The selectmen of Ipswich ordered the marshal, Edward Browne, to distrain on such as refused, and this action of trespass upon the case was brought by one of those, whose houses he had entered for that purpose. The judge, Symonds, found for the plaintiff, and expressed at some length the grounds of his judgment. His opinion is too long to be quoted here, and all the documents are curious and well worth reading. Appeal was taken from the decision, and the whole matter was finally referred to the General Court, which decided in favor of the vote of the town as binding, thus reversing the judgment of Mr. Symonds.

In June, 1661, he was a member of an important committee of prominent men, appointed "to consider & debate such matter or thing of publicke concernment touching our pattent, lawes, priviledges, & duty to his maj<sup>ty</sup> as they in their wisdome shall judge most expedient, & drawe up the result of their apphensōns, & present the same to the next session for consideration & approbation, that so (if the will of God be) wee may speake & act the same thing, becomming prudent, honest, conscientious, & faithfull men." He was this year ordered to keep Courts at Hampton and Salisbury; in 1663, was ordered to keep the next County Court for Suffolk, and in 1664 again in Norfolk.

Among the Winthrop Papers, in the volume before named, is a letter from Symonds to his brother-in-law Winthrop, written in 1662, in which is the following interesting and touching passage:—

"I have still one brother living. He hath a good estate; he is a batchellour. When I was in England he loved me well. I know not now, how I am in his minde; * but brother, if you did make a journey to see him, & (as occasion may be taken) to speake of me, as you shall see good, I shall add this courteey to the heap of your former high deservings. The rest of my cosens are (I take it) well provided for. I am loath to be as one utterly forgotten by one soe related (if God see meet). But I confesse it is a tender stringe, & he hath need of wisdome that can finger it well. He dwelleth at the Poole in Much Yeldham, neare Castle Heningham in Essex, about six miles from Erls Colne, where my kinrid of the Harlakindens live, which if alsoe you please to vizitt, kindly commending me to them all & every one of them, it wilbe very gratfull."

From the same letter we learn that his second wife was living in the early part of 1662, but was "very crazy"; she certainly died during that year, and in April, or May, 1663, he married Rebecca, widow, first of Henry Byley, secondly of John Hall, and thirdly of Rev. William Woreester. Her parentage was long a matter of doubt, but she is now plainly identified as daughter of Bennett Swayne, of Salisbury, England. She survived her fourth husband, and died 21 July, 1695, aged 78.

In 1665 he was chairman of a eommittee "to give answer to Seeretary Morrise his letter, & to consider what is further necessary to be donne in refference to what hath past betweene the honorable comissioners

& this Court as it relates to England." The same year he and Thomas Danforth were ordered to repair to York, to keep a County Court, and to appoint civil and military officers and commissioners. In 1668 he was appointed to keep County Courts in Norfolk, and in 1672 in Yorkshire. 7 May, 1673, he was chosen Deputy Governor, in succession to Leverett elected Governor. His services certainly deserved this compliment, a barren one, it must be confessed, to a man of 78 years. In this year he was chairman of a committee to consider of these three questions:—"1 Q. Whither according to patten there be a negative vote in any part of the Generall Court; if there be, then in what cases. Secondly. How farr our positive lawes doe in this matter agree wth or disagree from the patent. 3 Q. Where the use of the negative voat causeth an obstruction in any matter of necessity to be concluded or of great moment to the publick, what may be the best expedient for an issue, whither by lot or otherwise." In 1675 he was on the committee * to settle the trouble in Salem Church between

Rev. Messrs. Higginson and Nicholet ; and the same year, on account of the Indian war, obtained a guard of two men for his house, which was "so remote from neighbours, & he so much necessitated to be on the countrys service."

In the records of the General Court for October, 1678, we read, "The Court judgeth it matter of incumbancy to take care for an honno<sup>r</sup>ble & decent interment of y<sup>e</sup> late Deputy Gov<sup>r</sup>no<sup>r</sup>, & doe hereby order, that the country Treasurer forthwith deliver the sum of twenty pounds, in money or such other pay as may be necessary for such an end, to M<sup>r</sup> Daniel Epps, Senio<sup>r</sup>, to be as an addition to what shallbe expended by his relations on that account." The exact day of his death is not known. It is on record among the papers at the State House, Boston, that he died on 13 October; John Hull's Diary says, "Oct. 12. Samuel Symonds, Esq., the Deputy-Governor, died in Boston, the General Court sitting," while the following entry is found in an interleaved almanac of Samuel Sewall, "1678. 8, 11, Samuel Symonds Esq. Dep. Gov. buried."

The Rev. Dr. Felt thus writes of him in the "HISTORY OF IPSWICH, ESSEX, AND HAMILTON": —

"Who, that reviews the different and multiplied duties of Mr. Symonds, and the devoted and patriotic spirit, with which he discharged them, can truly deny that he merited the full, repeated, important, and long confidence placed in him by the public authorities? Nor was he less honored in the private walks of life. Whatever he undertook, whether business of town, county, colony, or country, he did not leave it, till he had expended upon it all the time, attention, and exertion which he ought. His politics, principles, and practices, were not swayed by corrupt ambition, but were deeply seasoned by the salt of piety, which induced him to seek first for the approbation of God, and then, as a consequence, to act for the best good of those, whose interests were committed to his care. The circle of his benevolence, his motives, and conduct, was not merely confined to the civilized, but also extended to the heathen, to whom he was an instrument of sending the Gospel more fully than it had been. His was a mind which looked at earthly concerns in the light of Revelation. His was a soul affected and moved more by eternal realities than by things temporal. His was a life which took hold on judgment, and secured the blessedness of justification through the Redeemer."

I will only add that he seems to me to have possessed that combination of true religious feeling with great firmness, not to say obstinacy, which was so much needed in the founding and early days of this colony, and which was so perfectly in place, and fully in agreement, with the men, among whom he found himself in Massachusetts.

I quote from his letters various passages illustrating his character. 1637, to John Winthrop, Jr., at Ipswich : —

"I heare that your Church hath settled the choyce of your ministers in their offices, & that now things are likely to goe on very well & comfortably, which ministers matter of great joy to all that love Jesus Christ. And truly the peace of any Church (because pretious) is soe difficult to preserve, in respect of the subtilty & mallice of the common enmy, that it requires answerable cautalousnes on all hands, every one waighing well that one sentence of the Apostle, Let every one esteeme an other better then him selfe, & studdy the vally-way to rise to true honour."

1647, to Governor John Winthrop : —

"Troubles and difficulties we must looke for (if we will reere a building to the Lord) but the encouragement exceeds when we consider the worke is his. . . . The scope of what I would expresse is, to observe Gods providences in mans motions at this tyme seeme plainly to tend to settle his people here, and to recover new English spirit for Christs kingdome againe. . . . Is not government in church and common weale (according to Gods owne rules) that new heaven and earth promised, in the fullnes accomplished when the Jewes come in, and the first fruites begun in this part New England, though neglected by many and opposed by some? Now to name what seemes to be Gods ende in bringing his people hether, whatever more there may be which tyme may yet discover. 1. To be an occasion to stirre up the zeale of the two nations to sett upon reformation of religion, and that with good successe. 2. To have liberty and power to sett up Gods owne ordinances in church government, and thereby to hold forth matter of conviction to the episcopacy and others that this way of church government and civill government may stand together. 3. To exercise the graces of the richer sort in a more mixt condition, they shall have the liberty of good government in their hands, yet with the abatement of their outward estates. And that the poorer sort (held under in England) should have enlargement. 4. To afford<sup>r</sup> a hiding place for some of his people that stood for the truth while the nation was exercised unto blood. 5. To have an opportunity to trayne up a godly skillfull soldiery, which shortly may be employed against that blasphemous citty. And to these may be added (at least a sprinkling) of godly seamen, formerly rare in the world. 6. To make this place a rendezvous for our deare English friends when they shall make their voyages to the West Indies, to dry up that Euphrates. 7. To be hopefull instruments in Gods hand to gaine these Indians to Christs kingdom. Which mercy if attained in any considerable measure will make us goe singing to our graves. . . . Sir, its conceived this place will prove either very honourable or very meene and contemptable, according as religion is attended or neglected."

1654, to John Winthrop, Jr., on the death of a child of the latter:—

"If I were present with you & my sister, in these two things I should endeavour; first, to help support your spirits under such a stroke, then to cast which way may be best for spirituall improvement. For the first, it tends to support to consider who it is that hath done it: he that is bound to give noe account of his matters: & not too much to pore upon this, or that, which might have prevented, as its likly you are apt to conceive; and secondly, that you therewith labour to apply that generall soule comforting promise, viz: All things shall worke together for the good of them that love God. And for spirituall improvement, such providences may well minde us of the uncertainty of all earthly enjoyments, therefore to put us on the move to obtayne assurance of such as are both full & lasting. When, through spetiall grace, the heart, seeing the emptines of the creature, rests in the fullnes that is in Jesus Christ, it is in spirituall health. Health you know is sweet, though the pill that procureth it be bitter. I might add, you have many children still; count you have none, give them all to the Lord; & then shall you be sure to have them againe with advantage."

1662, to John Winthrop, Jr., at London : —

"I heare what a dangerous passage you had ; it may put us in minde of the extreame difficulties & hassards doe attende our pilgrimage to that heavenly cuntry. We had need labor with all our might, to get a sure & safe arrivall at that haven."

Samuel Symonds left a good property, consisting principally of real estate, of which he had bought, and received by grant, from the town of Ipswich and the General Court, a very large amount. The following is on record at Salem in the first volume of Ipswich Deeds, written in his own clear hand : —

Granted by the freemen of the Towne of Ipswich to Samuel Symonds of Ipswich in New England Gent a farme of five hundred aeres of ground vpland & meadowe pporeonable Anno Dñi 1637 : which farme was laid out accordingly : It is since called Ollivers ; * The said farme (at the day of the Date of this & other Coppies following) is thus bounded viz : that end thereof towards the North-east abutteth vpon the now cōmon ground of the Towne of Ipswich beyonde part of the west meadowes : that part thereof towards the south-east abutteth vpon certayne ground of m<sup>r</sup> William Payne that end thereof

* I feel sure that this is a mistake for 1638.

10 December, 1642, the town of Ipswich passed this vote : —

"Granted to m<sup>r</sup> Samuel Symonds that his farme consisting of 500 acres of ground which lyeth towards the west side of the Towne (& is Comonly called Ollivers) shall or may (for the prop use of the farme) be constantly supplied with Timber & fire wood, off the Comons. To injoye to him his heires & Assignes."

On 1 January, 1645, he bought of his brother-in-law Winthrop the estate called Castle-Hill, which the town of Ipswich had granted to Winthrop in 1636. Symonds had to prove his title at a trial in 1647, and the trouble he had is told in a letter to Winthrop, printed by the Massachusetts Historical Society in the volume before quoted. The General Court of Massachusetts made him many large grants of land, as follows: 1648, five hundred acres of land in the Pequot country. 1651, three hundred acres "beyond the River of Merremacke, . . . with free liberty for timber, provided he sett up a sawe mille there wthin the space of seven yeeres." 1653, five hundred acres, in reference to his "service donne for the countrie at Yorke, Kittery, &c." 1657, he was allowed to take three hundred acres on this side of the Connecticut River in exchange for part of his former grants. 1658, in right of these grants he took possession of six hundred and forty acres on Lamper Ele River, between Dover and Exeter. 1659, he is desired to take land in some other place instead of on the Connecticut, as before granted, but the same year he was granted one hundred and sixty acres on that river above Northampton. 1659, he was also granted any island in Casco Bay not exceeding five hundred acres, as a recompense for services done. 1660, in consideration of the resignation of his three hundred acres on the Connecticut, he was granted one hundred in another part, additional, probably, to the one hundred and sixty. 1661, he was allowed to change the grants of an island of five hundred acres and of one hundred and sixty acres at Northwottocke for eight hundred to be laid out in one or two places.* 1662, five hundred acres were laid out for him "in the wildernes on the north of Merrimacke River, . . . at the mouth of Concord Ryver, upon a brooke called by the Indians Pophessgosnockegg." 1664, in obedience to former grants, three hundred acres were laid out for him at Assibath Plaine, between Concord and Lancaster. 1666, he was granted two hundred and fifty acres, which were laid out near the former grant on Lamperele River.

Samuel Symonds left a will with three codicils, here printed, which caused long litigation. His son William, whom he appointed exeuntor, died intestate 22 May, 1679, when the General Court appointed Daniel Epps, Harlakenden Symonds, and Richard Martin, administrators; a final settlement of the estate was not made till 1694. The case came often before the General Court, as may be read in the fifth volume of the Records of Massachusetts. The inventory is recorded as £2103 6s. 10*d*. Many petitions and other papers relating to the case may be seen among the records at the State House, Boston, and at Salem; I have not thought worth while to take particular notice of them here.

Samuel Symonds had certainly these sixteen children:—

- I. Richard,<sup>9</sup> born at Toppesfield, Essex, in 1618, was a student in Grey's Inn, and left in England by his father; I presume he died a few years later, as he is not mentioned in letters.

- II. Dorothy,<sup>9</sup> born at Toppesfield in 1619, married, probably about 1648, Rev. Thomas Harrison, who had been in Virginia as Chaplain to the Governor, was afterwards a short time in Massachusetts, but returned to England, and, in 1653, was of St. Dunstan's in the East, London; he was afterwards of Dublin, of Chester, and again of Dublin, where he died. I think his wife was dead in 1657; certainly she died before her father.
- III. Jane,<sup>9</sup> born at Toppesfield in 1621, living in 1634, but probably died a few years later.
- IV. Anne,<sup>9</sup> born at Toppesfield in 1622, died there in 1634.
- V. Samuel,<sup>9</sup> born at Toppesfield in 1623, died there the same year.
- VI. Elizabeth,<sup>9</sup> born at Toppesfield in 1624, married at Ipswich 20 May, 1644, her step-brother Daniel Eppes, to whom she bore several children, and died 7 May, 1685; her husband died 8 January, 1693.
- VII. Samuel,<sup>9</sup> born at Toppesfield in 1625, died unmarried at Ipswich in 1653; in his will he mentioned his brothers Harlakenden, John, William, and Samuel, and his sisters Martha, Ruth, Priscilla, and Mary Eppes.
- VIII. Harlakenden,<sup>9</sup> born at Toppesfield in 1627, lived at Gloucester, Mass., and became Freeman of the Colony 3 May, 1665; married Elizabeth Day, granddaughter, by her first husband, William Story, of Sarah, wife of Rev. John Cotton; he visited England in 1672, but returned the next year, and is thus mentioned in a letter from Samuell Epps to Fitz-John Winthrop, written at Boston 5 December, 1673. (Collections of Mass. Hist. Soc., 3d Series, Vol. X.) "Uncle Lack is come over in his own person as little varying from himself as most that have travelled the world as he hath done, hath as high an apprehension of his own prowess valour activity, ingenuity understanding, wit and memory as any in old or New England can have of him; he saith he went out with nothing, spent 100<sup>lib</sup> there, and is 100<sup>lib</sup> better then when he left New England; his relations have sent him over to lay in for an heir (to bear the name of John) to possesse the inheritance." He was living at Ipswich in 1695, and died in 1697. He left an only daughter and heir Sarah,<sup>10</sup> born at Gloucester 2 July, 1668, who married about 1692 Thomas Low of that place. His widow died there 31 January, 1728 or 29, aged 90.

- IX. John,<sup>9</sup> born at Toppesfield in 1628, seems to have been but little in this country, and was in England in 1653; he probably died within a few years from that date.

- X. Robert,<sup>9</sup> born at Toppesfield in 1629, died there in 1630.
- XI. William,<sup>9</sup> born at Toppesfield in 1632, lived some time at Wells, now in Maine, from which he was Deputy to the General Court of 3 May, 1676, and in 1677 and 1678 was one of the persons chosen to be associates with the Magistrates in keeping the County Courts for Yorkshire. Before and after this he lived at Ipswich, where he married Mary, daughter of Jonathan Wade of that town; he died there 22 May, 1679, leaving four daughters and coheirs.
- I. Susanna,<sup>10</sup> born at Ipswich 3 January, 1669, married there 18 December, 1690, Joseph Jacob, who died in 1697.
- II. Dorothy,<sup>10</sup> born at Ipswich 21 October, 1670, married there 19 December, 1695, Cyprian Whipple, who moved to Stonington, Connecticut, about 1708.
- III. Mary,<sup>10</sup> born at Ipswich 6 January, 1674, married there 10 December, 1697, Joseph Whipple, who died 11 May, 1699; she died 20 June, 1703.
- IV. Elizabeth,<sup>10</sup> born at Ipswich 20 July, 1678, married — Allyn.
- His widow died probably in 1693 or 94.
- XII. Roger,<sup>9</sup> born at Toppesfield in 1633, died there in 1634.

By his second wife : —

- XIII. Martha,<sup>9</sup> born probably at Ipswich, married John Denison, who died 9 January, 1671, leaving children; she married secondly Richard Martyn of Portsmouth, New Hampshire, and died in February, 1684, having also had children by her second husband, who died 2 April, 1694.
- XIV. Ruth,<sup>9</sup> born probably at Ipswich, married in 1659 Rev. John Emerson of Gloucester, who died 2 December, 1700; she died 23 February, 1702, leaving several children.
- XV. Samuel,<sup>9</sup> born probably at Ipswich, graduated at Harvard College in 1663, and died unmarried in 1669; in his will written 18 December, 1668, being then about to make a voyage for England, he mentioned his sisters Elizabeth Epps, Martha Denison, Ruth Emerson, Mary Duncan, and Priscilla Symonds.
- XVI. Priscilla,<sup>9</sup> born at Ipswich in 1648, being undoubtedly the child mentioned by Governor Winthrop in a letter to his son of 30 September in that year: "Your sister Symonds is delivered of a daughter;" married at Topsfield 26 March, 1672, Thomas Baker of that place, who died there 18 March, 1718; she died at Ipswich 2 January, 1734. (See p. 13.)

It is seen that Samuel Symonds had no grandsons of the family name, which of course soon became extinct in this country. It was, however, given in baptism in the families of Eppes, Low, and Baker, perhaps in others ; but I cannot say how long it continued in use. The descendants of Harlakenden and William are, of course, entitled to quarter the arms of Symonds: that is, provided they have arms of their own, with which to quarter them.

WILL OF SAMUEL SYMONDS.

I SAMUEL SYMONDS of Ipswich in New England gent, being desirous by setting these things in order now in tyme of my health that I may be the more free (if god please) when death approacheth to leave this world, & to attende the matters of my soule, & the blessed hopes for life to come, doe make, & ordayne this my last will, & testament, in manner & forme following, viz: first I cõmend my soule into the handes of Jesus Christ my euer blessed Saviour, in hope of a joyfull resurrecon, & meeting of my body at the last day w<sup>ch</sup> I leave to be decently Buried (without any vayne pompe) and my fūnall expences & debts to be paid, & discharged. A codicil testamentary to the last will & testament of Samuel Symonds gent which will beareth date the sixteenth of February Anno Dom̃ 1673.

Whereas in that my will I bequeathed to my sonne Harlakinden Symonds all my part of my farme at Lamperle River with the Sawinge Mill therevpon erected with all the vtenses & app<sup>r</sup>tunāces therevnto belonging, with all my part of the howses therevnto belonging, and alsoe one half of all my part of the meadow & vpland lately laid out to me which the hon<sup>d</sup> Gen<sup>r</sup>all Court lastly granted to me, lyinge beyonnd the Bounds of Dover & mostly beyonnd the Bounds of Exiter; and alsoe all my liberty in the lands of Dover, which I lately purchased of Robert Wadley with all its singular priviledges & appur<sup>t</sup>inances. To have & to hold the p<sup>r</sup>misses to him the said Harlakinden during his naturall life, and to the heires of his body lawfully begotten, male or female and for want of such heires to remayne to the saide Harlakinden & his heires for ever: Now therefore I doe hereby disanull & revoke all this my gift to my sonne Harlakinden as for terme of his naturall life and doe give him all the p<sup>r</sup>misses to have & to hold the same together with all & singular its apptunāces to him the said Harlakinden Symonds & his heires & assignes for ever. Alsoe where- as I bequeathed in my will to my sonne Harlakin Symonds my fourth part of the sawing mill at Lampeelee River with all its priviledges & apptunāces the p<sup>r</sup>vidence of god hath soe ordered it that the mill itself hath bene fired & wholly ruined by the enymy and soe made vnprofitable for the p<sup>r</sup>sent ; and considering that my sonne William Symonds who is my executor is in my debt for rent for my said mill more then the building & finishing the fourth part of the said mill will cost. my will is that when the rest of the owners doe rebuild & finish the saide mill that then this my fourth part soe bequeathed be alsoe carried on to the finishing of the same at the onely cost & charges of my sonne William Symonds for the onely vse of my sonne Harlakinden Symonds. Alsoe considering what lands I formerly have given to my sonne, Harlakinden, and that I highly esteeme this at Lampeele River. My advice & desire now is that he doth not sell, or putt it away, or any part of it vnlesse extreame necessity compell and that he doth what he doth in reference to the mill &c with very good advice And though I have gained very little by it, yet if he can waite, & peure honest dealing workmen, he will finde sufficient recompence for his waiting, for there is store of timber, with that which is added to it from Dover, & the meadow &c the Court gave me vp into the country. In wittnesse whereof I have herevnto sett my hande & seale the thirteenth day of January 1676.

This third codicill testamentary I Samuell Symonds doe now add to the former, which refereth to my will dated 16th day of February 1673. The occasion & reason of my soe doeing is because I mistooke in my date of my last codicill viz: I dated it 13th day of February 1676, which should have bene January 1676. Alsoe whereas I have mentioned in my will 100<sup>li</sup> to my daughter Martha Its onely named I doe not thereby give it, for I have given my bond for it, soe that mention is voide. ## FAMILY OF READ.

LITTLE attention has yet been paid to the history of this family, though many persons in New England are directly descended from Edmund Read of Wickford in Essex. No account of any fulness or value can anywhere be read. The documents here printed, and the facts here recorded, will certainly be new to most persons. The will of Edmund Read has been printed in the Proceedings of the Massachusetts Historical Society for 1862; and the editors of the volume, though having all the information then within their reach in this country, were hardly able to add any biographical notes to the document. The short pedigree on the next page may be found in MS. Harleian, 1429, in the British Museum.

PEDIGREE OF READ.

ANCESTRY OF MARTHA, SECOND WIFE OF SAMUEL SYMONDS.

It seems worth while to print the following facts in addition to the pedigree. Elizabeth, widow of Edmund Read, who died in 1623, married secondly the famous Rev. Hugh Peter. The Winthrop Family Papers contain indirect evidence of this; but the most certain proof is in a volume with this title: "ENGLANDS SHAME: OR THE UNMASKING OF A Politick Atheist: Being a Full and Faithful Relation of the LIFE and DEATH of that Grand Impostor HUGH PETERS. Wherein is set forth his whole Comportment, Policies, and Principles exercised from the Ingress, in the Progress, and to the Egress of his Unhappy Life. By WILLIAM YONGE, Dr. Med." The volume is an atrocious libel. Peters, being "settled in a Free School of 24*l.* per annum," at or near Malden in Essex, "feigns himself a Snitor, or rather a politick Servant to one Mistris Read a Widow woman dwelling neer unto him," and according to Dr. Yonge obtained her hand and fortune by a vile stratagem. The marriage probably took place about 1625, and Mrs. Peter died in England about 1637. I have no certain account of her parentage, but think she was daughter of Thomas Cooke of Pebmarsh, Essex.

William Read, eldest son of Edmund, lived at Birchanger in Essex, and died in 1659. His will is valuable as mentioning "my sister Lake, my sister Symonds, my sister Winthropp."

Samuel Read, second son of Edmund, was a physician, and in 1643 was of Bishop's-Stortford in Hertfordshire. He was undoubtedly dead in 1659, not being named in his brother William's will.

Thomas Read, third son of Edmund, came to New England, and was admitted Freeman of the Colony of Massachusetts 1 April, 1634. He settled at Salem, and in March, 1637, was appointed Ensign of the watch for that town; in 1647 he was called Captain. 16 February, 1636, the town granted him a farm of three hundred acres north-west northerly from Salem, the bounds of which were settled 28 February, 1662. He seems not to have passed much time in this country, and finally returned to England, to take an active part in the great rebellion. He was a Colonel in the parliamentary army, and for some time was governor of Stirling Castle. He has been thought to have taken part with General Monk in the restoration of Charles II.; and this is possible, though in October, 1661, he was one of several officers "comitted close prissoners to the Gatehouse, Westm<sup>r</sup>, by expresse warants sygned by his Ma<sup>tie</sup>'s principall Secretary of State." Thomas Read married Priscilla, daughter of John Banks of Maidstone, Kent, and of London, who died in 1642. They had six children, but I only know the names of four; three of them died young. Thomas Read died in 1662. His son Samuel, a merchant of London, was living in 1701.

Margaret Read, eldest daughter of Edmund, married John Lake, of what family I do not know; he was certainly not brother of Sir Edward Lake and of Thomas Lake of Boston, Mass., for that John was also of Boston, where he died in 1677. They had three children, John and Anna, mentioned in the will of their grandfather Read, and Martha, born later. Mrs. Margaret Lake came to New England, and lived for some time at New London, Conn., afterwards at Ipswich, where she died in 1672. Her husband was living in 1657, but I know not how much later. Of her son John I know nothing; her daughter Anna, called here Hannah, married John Gallup, of New London and Stonington, a Captain, who was killed in the Narragansett swamp fight 19 December, 1675, leaving several children; Martha married 15 November, 1647, Thomas Harris of Ipswich, who died in 1687, also leaving several children.

Martha Read, second daughter of Edmnd, married Daniel Eppes of Kent, in which county the name often occurs. They had three children, Daniel and Elizabeth, mentioned in the will of their grandfather Read, and Mary, born later. Her husband died within a few years after 1623, and she married about 1637 Samuel Symonds, as related on page 62. Near the same time she came to this country. She bore her second husband certainly four children, as before enumerated, and died in 1662. Her son Daniel Eppes married 20 May, 1644, his step-sister Elizabeth Symonds, and died 8 January, 1693, leaving several children. Her daughter Elizabeth Eppes became, I presume, wife of James Chute of Ipswich; he is called son by Samuel Symonds, and in 1653 James and Elizabeth Chewte were witnesses to the will of Samuel Symonds, Jr. Her daughter Mary Eppes married about 1654 Peter Duncan of Gloucester, and died there 21 July, 1692, leaving several children; her husband died 6 May, 1716, aged eighty-six.

Elizabeth Read, third daughter of Edmund, born at Wickford in 1614, married about 1635 John Winthrop, Jr., Governor of Connecticut, and had several children before her death, 24 November, 1672. He died 5 April, 1676.

REBECCA (SWAYNE) SYMONDS.

REBECCA, third wife of Samuel Symonds, was daughter of Bennett Swayne of Sarum, England, where she was born in 1616 or 1617. She married, about 1636, Henry Byley of Sarum, who came to New England in 1638, leaving her behind with one or two little children. She came soon after; but he died at Salisbury, Mass., about 1640, leaving children Henry and Rebecca. She married secondly, 3 April, 1641, John Hall of Salisbury, and had John, born 18 March, 1642, and Samuel. He died in a few years, and she married thirdly, 22 July, 1650, Rev. William Worcester of Salisbury. He died 28 October, 1662; and the next year she married Samuel Symonds, as has been told. Her son Henry Byley died unmarried. Her daughter Rebecca Byley married, 15 December, 1664, Rev. John Hale of Beverly, and died 13 April, 1683, leaving a son Robert. Her son John Hall moved to England, and in 1676 and 1682 was of Islington, Middlesex, a merchant. He died in 1691, leaving a daughter Elizabeth Rogers.

FAMILY OF BANKS.

IN 1859 MR. WILLIAM H. WHITMORE communicated to the "New-England Historical and Genealogical Register" a letter written from London 5 September, 1672, by LIDIA BANKES to her Coussen Daniel Eppes, of Ipswich, Mass. It was an answer to a letter brought to England by Harlakenden Symonds, and names many relations; and Mr. Whitmore made a guess as to the manner and degree of relationship, which was wonderfully good, considering the utter ignorance of the Read pedigree which then existed. The present volume contains, I think, a full explanation of all that was then a puzzle. To finish the work I add a pedigree of Banks, compiled from wills and parish registers, and the following, found in the British Museum, Ms. Harleian, 1476. I owe many facts to the labors of Mr. H. G. SOMERBY.

The full pedigree is as opposite.

Lydia, daughter of John Banks of Maidstone and London, was the writer of the letter. Her relationship to most of the persons mentioned in it is shown in the various pedigrees in this volume. She joined the Church of Salem, Mass., in 1637, but left about 1642, and in 1664 desired dismissal to Mr. Nye's Church, London. Sir John Banks, Baronet, died 17 October, 1699, and was buried at Aylesford with all trophies, 31 October. The baronetcy became extinct at his death. In compliance with his will a monument was erected to his memory, with his and his wife's effigies in marble. According to Hasted, the Historian of Kent, his arms were, "Sable, on a cross, between four fleurs-de-lis, Argent, five pheons Azure;" but according to Burkes' "Extinct and Dormant Baronetcies," they were, "Sable, on a cross Or, between four fleurs-de-lis Argent, five pellets."
